

Like a Comet

This famous remedy does for the stomach what which it is unable to do for itself, even if but slightly disordered or overburdened.

Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles and membranes of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. It cures indigestion, flatulence, palpitation of the heart, nervous dyspepsia, and all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying and strengthening the glands, membranes of the stomach and digestive organs.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength."

The Union Workman to His Wife. Wife, pull the blinds down closer And double lock the door; Then get that shabby benny That yesteryear I wore, And sew a button on it— Sh-sh-sh! for there might be An agent of the union Now keeping watch on me!

You see, dear wife, it's different From how things used to go, Before this union business Had tyrannized us so. We had a little freedom— We sometimes had some work— Before this Samparkism Had schooled us all to shirk.

You used to mend my garments, I used to mend our shoes; In fact, we once came nearly Behaving as we chose. But now we've got the union, "In union there is strength"— God knows I realize it: 'Twill strangle me at length.

So pull the blinds down closer, And double lock the door, Then fix my shabby benny That yesteryear I wore. Some agent of the union Might now be keeping tab, And I might be blacklisted, For, wife, you're a scab!

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy, that the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby."

"When Her Soul Speaks."

The above is the title of a new play that will be seen at Morton's Theatre on next Friday evening. The leading female role is played by Miss Eva Mountford, a Maryland girl who has made her mark as an emotional actress. Miss Mountford is a beautiful woman and a representative of our best Southern families, being closely related to the George and Bond families of Baltimore. "When Her Soul Speaks" was written for her by Mr. Elmer Grandin, who will be seen in the supporting company, which is a superior one throughout. The play is a powerful human, and a clean one as well—dealing with the life of one woman—a good woman, who by stress of circumstances is tempted to assume the name and place of another. Every inducement is offered her to keep this position, but when she sees that another must suffer by her doing so, she sacrifices all that she has gained and owns the truth for the truth's sake and for right. The management has furnished a complete and handsome scenic setting for the play, and the ladies' costumes are beautiful and appropriate.

BULBS FILL FIFTEEN ACRES.
Cannas, Caladiums, Dahlias and Tuberoses Form a Beautiful World's Fair Feature.

Fifty thousand cannas, with their gorgeous array of colors; great caladiums, or "elephant's ears," with their mammoth foliage; modest dahlias, with their daintily colored petals, and beds of tuberose, with their wax-like flowers and intense fragrance, combine to make a floral exhibit that will cover sixteen acres of ground on the World's Fair site. The plants will not be seen in one mammoth bed or tract, but will be scattered in well modeled groups over the northern and eastern slopes of Agricultural Hill.

Many thousand choice tuberose bulbs, planted in beds in the six-acre World's Fair garden, will next spring send up thrifty blooming spikes, and the fragrance of the blossoms, almost overpowering when breathed alone, will mingle with the more delicate perfume of the rose.

Commencing with the early summer there will be a profusion of blossoms and fresh supplies will constantly succeed one another until frost comes. The caladiums are grown mainly for their foliage, as the blossom is of little value. A group of these almost tropical plants will be in the corner of the terrace 10 feet high and a quarter of a mile long that skirts the mammoth Palace of Agriculture on the eastern side. This terrace, straight as an arrow for nearly the full length of the giant structure, makes a beautiful curve near the southern end and forms a bank for some of the beautiful artificial lakes between the Agriculture and Horticultural buildings. The caladiums thrive near the water and they will attain perfection.

That the dahlia may no longer be considered a "backyard" flower will be demonstrated by the prominent position allotted to it in the World's Fair garden, by far the largest and most pretentious ever seen at any international exposition. Time was when the dahlia was small and insignificant, but florists have taken it from that class and have developed it so that it ranks with the stately crysanthemum. The petals that radiate in a single row from the solidly colored corolla, take on all the tints of the peony or rose. Until recently the bulbs for all these flowers were imported, and this monster exhibit will demonstrate the progress in the industry of growing, flowering and ornamental bulbs in this country.

NEW YORK BUILDING.

The site of the New York State building is one of the best on the grounds. Situated on the State plaza, with the Illinois and Iowa buildings, both of architectural importance, for neighbors, and overlooking Forest Park, it has invited special effort from the architect, and he has produced a design of marked simplicity and dignity consonant with the traditions of the Empire State. The land falls off about 25 feet on the easterly end, and it has been taken advantage of by the architect to place a large fountain in the facade of the podium or terrace. This fountain typifies the Mississippi river in the form of a river god controlling the sea.

The building proper will stand on a podium enriched with balustrades and vases. It is to be colonial in design and detail, and surmounted with a low dome. There will be a large hall 60 feet square running the full height, arched and domed in the Roman manner, with galleries around the second story. To the right is to be a large assembly hall 50x60 feet, to be used on state occasions. It is really a part of the Grand Hall. Small assembly rooms will be included in the end of this wing. To the left of the hall are to be waiting and writing rooms. The whole first floor will be as one room, however, and with its colonnades and arches will present interesting vistas.

The second story will have suitable rooms for the commission, the secretary and general offices. The hall and all of the appointments are most generous, and are to be treated in a simple, quiet manner. In fact, no effort will be made in the way of elaborate decorations, but the beauty of the whole will depend entirely on carefully studied detail and correct architectural lines. In the large hall, however, it is proposed to place four large paintings in the lunettes symbolizing the four original owners, the Indians in one, Spanish, French and Americans in the others.

The four pendentives will be filled with pictures emblematic of the four original states included in the purchase, and their products and manufactures. The external sculpture, while not extensive, will receive careful attention. The fountain already described, and the four Quadriga flanking the dome, will be modeled by representative sculptors and will typify the march of progress. The building will be built of staff in the manner of exhibition buildings, and located as it is in a park and with beautiful surroundings, will do credit to the state.

INTRAMURAL RAILWAY
For Transportation of World's Fair Visitors.

A SCENIC ROUTE SIX MILES LONG

How the Road is Being Built—One Trestle 2,100 Feet Long—Electricity Furnishes the Motive Power—Seventeen Stations on the Route.

Visitors to the World's Fair next year may take a car on the Intramural railroad at any of the entrances, or at any one of the 17 stations distributed at intervals along the route, and ride six miles, making an entire circuit of the grounds. A general view of all the big exhibit palaces can be obtained from the windows, and one may ride to within easy walking distance of any important building.

The construction of the Intramural is being pushed rapidly toward completion. Five of the 12 miles of track to be laid are completed, and need only the electrical equipment to be ready for operation. Double tracks will be laid the entire length of the road.

The maximum grade of the Intramural is 3 per cent and the maximum curvature 20 degrees, except the loop curves at the terminals, which have a radius of 75 feet. Three hundred men are constructing the trestles, grading and laying the tracks. The road is perfectly graded throughout except for a short distance in the western part of the grounds.

Work is being pushed in the trestle which will carry the road down Government Hill, close to the eastern fence. This trestle is the best engineering feat on the line of the road. It will be 2,100 feet long and will be built on piling of heavy double deck structures, 30 feet high.

A trestle bridge, which will carry the road over the World's Fair terminal surface tracks, is progressing rapidly. This bridge has a length of 112 feet, consisting of two 56-foot spans.

The Intramural tracks will be used for transporting building material and exhibits during the pre-exposition period. The tracks throughout are standard gauge, 4 feet 8 1/2 inches, which is the gauge of both the Intramural and steam railway equipment. The construction of the entire line will be heavy enough to carry the largest switch engine over it, without danger. Railroad cars will be handled in the tracks even after the wires for the Intramural road are in place.

Installation of the trolley poles is progressing as rapidly as the tracks are laid. The poles are 30 feet long and of white pine. They set six feet in the ground so that the trolley wire will be 15 feet above the top of the rails. The poles are planted between the double tracks and the wires will be supported on brackets attached to them, as in boulevard trolley construction.

The equipment for the Intramural is now being made at the St. Louis car shops. There will be 17 trains, each consisting of two motor cars and a trailer. A few open cars will be used, but most of the cars will be closed. They will be handsomely equipped with all modern improvements, and will be about the size of the street cars used in large cities. Each car will have four 40-horse-power motors connected up on the "multiple unit control system." A 500-volt current will be used. The road will be operated in sections, so that the current may be turned off in one section without impairing the operation on the rest of the road.

An interesting sight is the novel time and labor-saving method employed in ballasting the road bed with cinders. A large cinder dump car used by the street railways of the city has been run on to a flat car, on which rails have been laid. This is done by running a flat car close to an embankment the exact height of the car. On the embankment a spur of the street railway tracks is laid with a trolley wire extending a car's length beyond it. The spur and the rails on the flat car make perfect connection, enabling the electric car to be installed with ease and safety. To the flat car has been coupled a locomotive. As the car is drawn slowly over the system the cinders are distributed along the tracks where they are afterwards leveled. It is estimated that $10 is saved on each carload of cinders dumped, or about $2,500 in all. It takes about 15 minutes to distribute a carload by this method, where by the old way it took four hours. It was impossible to run the electric car over the Intramural tracks on account of the difference in the gauge.

—The Kentucky Experiment Station at Lexington is to make an agricultural display in Kentucky's space at the World's Fair covering 400 square feet. Professors Garman and Harper are looking especially after these exhibits.

A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach what which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or overloaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood.

RHEUMATISM CURED AT LAST.

Good News, for All Who Suffer With Rheumatism, Free.

To all who suffer with Rheumatism I will gladly send free the wonderful story of how my mother was cured after years of suffering, together with the most elaborate treatise on Rheumatism ever published.

No matter what your form of Rheumatism is, whether acute, chronic, muscular, inflammatory, deforming, sciatic, neuralgia, gout, lumbago, etc.—no matter how many doctors have failed in your case—no matter how many so-called "sure cures" you have tried—I want you to write to me and let me tell you how my mother was cured.

I am neither a Doctor nor a Professor—simply a plain man of business—but I have a CURE for Rheumatism, and I want to tell everyone who suffers with Rheumatism all about it. I appeal especially to the "chronically ill" who are wearied and discouraged with "doctoring" and to those who have been cast aside as "incurable."

Send me your address today—a postal card will do—and I will mail you this wonderful story. My address is: VICTOR RAINBOLT, 136 W. 12th Street, Room 6, New York, N. Y.

Three bodies were recovered Friday morning from under the Louisville and Nashville wreck at New Hope, Ky. They were those of John Reynolds, Martin Cannon and John Leach. The road was cleared for traffic early Friday morning.
